Why the Netherlands is an interesting location for foreign entrepreneurs.

This is an overview of reasons why the Netherlands is an interesting location for foreign entrepreneurs.

When it comes to matters such as quality of life, safety and (digital) infrastructure the scores of the Netherlands are high! These are, among other things, the reasons why the Netherlands attract international companies. But there is more! JAN© has made an overview of reasons why the Netherlands is an interesting country for foreign entrepreneurs:

The European Commission recently published a ranking of European regions with a very favorable business climate. In the top 5 you will find four Dutch regions!

The Dutch region of Utrecht has the best business climate of the entire European Union! You will also find the region of South Holland, North Brabant and of course the Amsterdam region in the top 5!

The researcher gave the ranking based on the economic benefits of a strong business environment. A good business climate ensures a richer population, more women in the workplace and attracts more recent graduates.

The Netherlands has a strong economy

The Netherlands has also conquered a place in the top 5 of most competitive economies. In view of the corona crisis, the Dutch economy experienced a relatively small contraction in 2020, resulting in a quick recovery of the economy.

An optimal location!

The Netherlands is located next to the North Sea and Germany, France and Belgium are within easy reach. In Rotterdam you will find the largest trading port of the world! That makes the Netherlands ideal for reaching every part of Europe and the rest of the world.

An excellent infrastructure!

The Netherlands is not only easily accessible by water. The Netherlands is also known for its good transport and telecommunications network. This makes it possible to do business quickly in the Netherlands.

A very good digital infrastructure!

The Netherlands has one of the highest broadband speeds in Europe. In addition, the quality of things such as the WiFi and Bluetooth connection are excellently arranged.

All Dutch networks have a coverage of 95% for the 4G internet. National coverage for the 5G network is being worked on, depending on the provider, the coverage is 80-90%.

A diverse population with a good command of the English language

The society in the Netherlands is known as open and progressive. Innovation and creativity are important assets in the Netherlands.

The population is also very diverse. Within Dutch society, approximately 25% of the inhabitants have a parent who was born abroad. Many Dutch people are multilingual. The English language is mastered by about 90% of the Dutch.

In short: the Netherlands is a beautiful and well-maintained country!

The above overview does indicate that the Netherlands has more to offer than an impressive capital, clogs, cheese and windmills. Although these are of course also things that make the Netherlands an interesting country to visit for foreign business relations.

Naturally, a country in which everything is well organized has necessary administrative requirements. Keep this in mind when setting up a company in the Netherlands.
